THE REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION.

A National Convention of the Republican party will meet at Chicago, Wednesday, the 24 day of June next, for the nomination of candidates to be supported for President and Vice President at the next election.

Republicans, and all who will co-operate with them in supporting the nominee of the party, are invited to choose two delegates from each Congressional District, four at large from each State, two from each Territory, and two from the District of Columbia, to represent them in the Convention.

J. D. CAMERON, Chairman.
THOMAS R. KEOGH, Secretary.

REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION.

Rooms of the REPUBLICAN STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE, MILWAUKEE, February 14, 1880.
A State Convention of delegates representing the Republican party of Wisconsin, and of all who will co-operate with them in supporting the Nominee of the party, is hereby called to meet at the Capitol in Madison, at twelve o'clock M., on Wednesday, May 27th, 1880, for the purpose of placing in nomination an electoral ticket of ten electors to be supported by the party at the next Presidential election, and also to select twenty delegates, (two from each Congressional District and four from the State at large,) to represent the Republican party of Wisconsin in the National Republican Convention, which is called to meet at Chicago on the 24 day of June, A. D. 1880, and to transact such other business as may be deemed necessary.

Each Senate and Assembly District is entitled to two delegates in the Convention.

The vote on the bicameral sessions resolution is a sort of a 13-15-14 puzzle to the Madisonians.

Because the Committee on Charitable and Penal Institutions want to stop the superintendent and trustees of the State Hospital from squandering the State money unlawfully, the Madison papers are opposed to the Committee's report.

There will be great surprise among those who have read the proceedings of the Carhart-Haddock trial at Oshkosh, that the Committee should say, "We do not find any of the specifications and charges sustained." We imagine they will blush, as well as exhibit surprise.

Said Matt Carpenter in the Senate on Saturday, "this last act (referring to Fitz John Porter's case) may be needed to convince the American people that to insure proper discrimination between virtue and vice, to fix proper punishment upon disloyalty, and hold the rebellion in check, we need in the White House once more the steady hand, cool head and the patriotic heart of U. S. Grant." And this created loud applause even in the Senate.

The calamity which overtook the little village of Berger, Genesee county, New York, last week, was almost as deplorable as the destruction of Peshigo, in this State, in 1871. Berger contained about 700 population, and every business house, and nearly every residence, was destroyed.
This was the work of powder, some unknown persons attempting to blow up the village and fire it to improve their chances for robbery. They got but little, but completely destroyed the town.

It is thought that the Legislature will hardly close up its business this week. The Assembly has made a pretty clean sweep of its files, but the Senate are somewhat behind, which will require several days more of hard work. There are yet several measures which will probably require some discussion, beside there are more than a hundred other bills to dispose of. If the Legislature does not adjourn on Saturday, the final adjournment will be postponed till the middle of next week.

Senator Carpenter made a masterly argument against the Fitz John Porter bill on Saturday. He maintained that the verdict against Porter can not be annulled by Congress in any constitutional way. Carpenter, aside from making a strong legal argument, painted a vivid picture of the sacrifices caused by the treason of General Porter.
He claimed that 30,000 lives had been lost: by his cowardice and treason, and that the loss fell heavily upon Wisconsin, for the "Iron Brigade" in the army of the Potomac, made up of three Wisconsin regiments and one Indiana regiment, "as brave a body of men as ever were on the battle field, a body of men, who for bravery and soldierly bearing and conduct, would not suffer by comparison with the 'Old Guards' of Napoleon, in one of the fights of that neighborhood lost in one hour and five minutes nineteen hundred and ten men killed and wounded. Every train of cars that penetrated the interior States for months afterwards came freighted with the sacred remains of our slaughtered soldiers. They were piled up in pine boxes around our depots like merchandise, and sleep now in green graves that dot every hill and every valley in Wisconsin. Our people will not soon forget Fitz John Porter. They will never forgive him. They would not soon forget him, and never forgive me, if I should stand as their representative and vote to put Fitz John Porter back where he would have been if he had not fallen, and pay him all that he would have had if he had remained in the service and served his country faithfully."

WASHBURN'S CANDIDACY.

There is a growing feeling in many parts of the country that E. B. Washburn should be made the Presidential candidate at the Chicago Convention. There is a stronger

THE JAMESVILLE GAZETTE.

VOLUME 23 JAMESVILLE, WISCONSIN, MONDAY, MARCH 8, 1880. NUMBER 308

CONFIDENCE IN HIM.

confidence in him than in any other candidate mentioned, and there is a general sentiment that his nomination would make Republican success certain. For these reasons his name has been used quite freely of late in connection with the Presidential question, and his supporters are rapidly increasing. It was said a few weeks ago that he would not be a candidate as against General Grant, and within the past few weeks he has written a letter which seems to be a pretty firm declination. The following is a copy:

"MY DEAR SIR: I have just seen in the papers a statement that my old friends in Mount Carroll propose holding a meeting to-morrow night to organize a club to advance my candidacy for the Presidency. If such be the fact, it is a compliment which I profoundly appreciate, and it has a double value as coming from my old constituents and friends, who, for nine successive elections, supported me for Congress with a zeal and devotion which has challenged my deepest gratitude. I must, however, through you, beg of them to desist from any such action. I can, under no circumstances or conditions, become a candidate for President. General Grant is my first, last, and only choice.
"Thanking my friends for their proposed manifestation of kindness and good will, I am, very truly, your obedient servant,
"E. B. WASHBURN."

James Hallett, Esq.
However strong a declination this may be, the Republican Convention will take that course which it thinks will be best for the success of the party, and if Mr. Washburn is regarded the stronger man, and General Grant refuses to contest for the nomination, there is no doubt he will receive the endorsement of the Convention, and in that case not decline the honor. We believe Mr.
Washburn is sincere in his letter, and his wishes should be respected, but doubtless the letter was written on the assumption that General Grant would carry the Convention. Mr. Washburn is having a large following, and the opinion quite extensively prevails among Republicans, that altogether he is the strongest man in the country.

A VERY HEALTHY REPORT.

Senator Richardson, Chairman of the Committee on Charitable and Penal Institutions, has made a very important report regarding the action of the Trustees of the State Hospital for the Insane, in contracting debts in violation of law. The rebuke is a scathing one, and one which is richly deserved. According to the report, the superintendent and trustees have managed the financial affairs of the Hospital without regard to law. It has been the practice of the Superintendent to purchase supplies and material required, largely on credit, and the trustees have included in their reports such articles only as were paid for before the close of the fiscal year. Senator Richardson says that there does not appear to have been any attempt made to separate accounts for supplies for different years, but as these bills have been presented and paid, they have been entered in the books of the institution as of the year when paid.

The report also says that "a list of unpaid accounts against the institution was furnished your Committee of the State Board of Charities, amounting to $32,700, and though a considerable portion of this indebtedness was created before the month of October, and some of it as early as April, no mention of that fact is made in the Superintendent's report. This practice of creating debts has been followed by its natural consequence, the necessity of borrowing money by the institution, and the payment of interest thereon, at the time when there was no lack of money in the State treasury."

Again, the Chairman says, "whether or not, the anticipation of these appropriations is evidence of a degree of confidence on the part of the trustees in the readiness of the legislature to honor their drafts, which speaks volumes for the generosity of former legislatures, but reflects no credit upon their supervision of these institutions." It is very true as stated in the report that "the deliberate assumption of this authority to run in debt, was not justified by any necessity which was not well understood by members of every Legislature that has met in this Capitol for years, and by the board of management of the hospital, and its approval of this Legislature would be official notice to all, that the precedent thus established could be followed of others, till the whole duties of future Legislatures relating to our acts of these boards of management, and collect taxes to settle accounts of their creating."

The Committee recommend that the bill to pay this unlawful indebtedness be indefinitely postponed. The question is, has the Legislature the moral courage to defeat the unjustified and illegal schemes of the Superintendent and trustees of the State Insane Hospital?

In connection with this subject it is well to state here, that Senator Richardson has introduced a bill which seeks to effect a radical change in the management of the Hospitals for the Insane. Briefly stated, it provides that the Governor, with the consent of the Senate, shall in March next, appoint three commissioners to be known as the Wisconsin Commissioners of Hospitals for the Insane, one of whom shall be appointed each year for a term of three years. The board shall have the control and management of all the hospitals for the insane, and shall become responsible for such. The bill is an exceedingly important one, and is so wise in its provisions that the Legislature can hardly refuse to pass it. It is practically a reform measure, and should be passed.

WORK OF THE SESSION.

Speaker Randall Hopes Congress will Adjourn by the Middle of May.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Speaker Randall, in conversation this evening concerning the probable duration of the session, says he is still hopeful that Congress will be able to adjourn by the middle of May. The Committee on Appropriations, he thinks will be ready with all the appropriation bills as fast as the House can dispose of them. It is the intention to endeavor to pass the "immediate deficiency," the United States Marshals' deficiency and the consular and diplomatic appropriation bills next week, and to go on with the Indian Appropriation bill the week following. It is very doubtful whether this programme can be carried out, as the funding bill still remains unfinished business, and the Marshals' deficiency bill is also likely to give rise to extended debate. It is, however, not becoming the general conviction that very little legislation will be completed this session except the passage of regular appropriation bills.

TILDEN'S CANDIDACY.

His Nomination at Cincinnati a Foregone Conclusion.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Washington Capital, which does not wish to be classified as a Democratic organ, although it has special facilities for obtaining Democratic news, says this morning:

"It is idle to attempt to effect to deny any longer that there is danger of the re-nomination of Samuel J. Tilden by the Democratic Convention at Cincinnati. Not only is there danger that he will be nominated, but, according to all present appearances, and these appearances are gaining instead of subsiding every day, the nomination of Tilden is almost a foregone conclusion."

CONFLAGRATION.

An Eight Hundred Thousand Dollar
Fire at St. Paul.

ST. PAUL, March 7.—Fire broke out at 5 o'clock this afternoon in the roof of the wholesale dry-goods house of Auerbach, Finch, Culbertson & Co., the largest building and occupied by the heaviest firm in the city. The fire smoldered for nearly an hour before breaking out, but the firemen were unable to reach or check it. About 6 o'clock it broke out of the upper windows and the building was soon beyond salvation. At this hour (9 o'clock) it has burned to the second story, and will be a total loss. The fire department from here and Minneapolis continue their efforts while the goods are being rapidly removed from the lower stories.

The building is three years old and was built by Commodore W. F. Davidson; it cost $200,000 and is insured for $45,000. It was filled with goods in anticipation of the spring trade. The value of the goods is $550,000; insurance, $192,000 in several St. Paul agencies.

ONE HUNDRED FEET.

A Louisville Sam Patch Makes a Fearful Leap.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 7.—Thomas Boyd, a young man about 23 years of age, to-day accomplished the feat of jumping from the bridge which spans the Ohio at this point into the falls below, a distance of about 100 feet. About three Sundays ago he jumped off in the presence of a few friends, and when he claimed to have performed the feat the public were loath to believe him; so about two weeks ago he announced his intention to make the leap, and was on hand at the appointed time, as was a large crowd, but the bridge authorities objected, and the police interfered, and he determined to jump off in privacy and let only reporters and a few personal friends know the time. To-day about 3:30 o'clock he and the favored few, about 35 in all, proceeded to the bridge. A skiff was in waiting a short distance below the bridge, and at 4 o'clock, everything being in readiness, Boyd, dressed only in trousers and shirt, stepped on the railing and leaped into the rapids below. He turned one somersault and he hardly turned the second the second when he struck feet first, and after being under a few seconds appeared on the surface. The boatmen caught him, and he was brought to shore.

The fall did not hurt him in the least.
There was nine feet eight inches of water where he jumped.

WINTER WHEAT.

This Crop Seriously Damaged in Northern Wisconsin.

LA CROSSE, Wis., March 7.—Reports from Monroe, Trempealeau, Vernon, La Crosse, and other counties and localities in Northern and Western Wisconsin, indicate that the winter wheat has been seriously damaged by the very unfavorable weather of the past ten days. The nights have been cold, ice generally forming, followed by warm days. Some localities report the crop a failure, and that the farmers will plow in the winter and replant with spring wheat. The acreage sown to winter wheat is much greater in this section than ever before.

FOUR TO ONE.

The Verdict in the Carhart-Haddock Case at Oshkosh.

OSHKOSH, March 7.—The verdict in the Oshkosh trial was reached at 4 o'clock yesterday morning, after a continuous session of the committee since 1 o'clock Friday.
The charges and specifications were each taken up and considered separately, and upon each one the defendant was cleared.
The vote was unanimous in nearly every case, and was 4 to 1 whenever there was any division. The committee spent two hours on one specification. The case comes up again at the Wisconsin conference, next fall, when the finding of the committee will be passed upon. Haddock is a sadly disappointed man, and Carhart is prostrated with grief over his own good fortune. Public opinion is divided, as it was at the beginning of the trial, although Carhart has certainly made more friends, not so much by anything he has done as by the failure of the prosecution to pin him down. There is little doubt that Mr.
Haddock will have to answer at conference a charge of unchristian conduct in publishing his letters against Carhart, and the spirit he has manifested in hunting up testimony for the prosecution in the trial just closed.

OBITUARY.

STERLING, Ill., March 7.—Colonel Robert L. Wilson, one of our oldest and most highly respected citizens, died this morning at his residence in this city, aged 75.
He was a native of Pennsylvania, emigrated to Sangamon county, Ill., in 1833.
In 1836 he was elected a representative, and was one of the famous "long nine" from Sangamon county in the Legislature of that year, among whom were Abraham Lincoln, A. G. Herndon, Nathan Edwards, Colonel E. D. Baker, names now famous in history. Colonel Wilson located in Sterling in 1840, and held many positions of honor and trust in Whiteside county. At the breaking out of the war President Lincoln appointed him Army Paymaster in the Western Department, where he served four years.

BREACH OF PROMISE.

LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 7.—A Fifteenth Amendment case will occupy the attention of Esquire E. M. Weaver on Tuesday, unless sooner headed off. A colored man named Thomas Jefferson has brought suit to recover the sum of $10, which he says he gave to one Rosa Riley upon her faithful promise to marry him. This exchange of greenbacks for affection took place on the 31st inst., but after the gentle promise he had made, the money Thomas alleged he had given, and boldly back on the marriage part, and said she wouldn't have anything to do with him.
Thomas, unable to get her for a wife, is willing to compromise upon receiving his money.

THE UTE TREATY.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—It is semi-officially announced that the agreement between Secretary Schurz and the Utes will be sent to Congress early this week, and that it will be finally signed by the Secretary as soon as Congress approves it, which appears to be considered certain. Some doubt is expressed whether the Indians are honest acquiescence in the agreement made by their chiefs here, but no substantial reason for this expression of doubt has yet been made known in Washington.

COUNTERFEITS.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—The Treasury Department announces the existence of counterfeit $100 bills on the following banks: National Revere Bank, Boston; Pittsfield National Bank, Pittsfield; Merchants' National Bank, New Bedford; Second National Bank, Wilkesbarre; Pittsburg National Bank of Commerce. The counterfeit notes on the banks mentioned are so admirably executed that they are liable to deceive even experts.

The famous diamond necklace presented by the Khedive of Egypt to General Sherman's eldest daughter on the occasion of her marriage to Lieutenant Fitch has at last ceased to have any public history. It will be remembered that the necklace, valued by the custom house authorities at $200,000, was held some time for the payment of $20,000 duties, which Lieutenant Fitch, not being rich, could not pay. Congress finally passed an act authorizing the custom house officers to deliver the diamonds to him free of duty, which was done, and they were sent to Washington for safe keeping in the Treasury. After this Lieutenant Fitch ascertained that the yearly taxes on the diamonds in St. Louis would be much more than his salary, and he once more found them an elephant on his hands. His father-in-law, General Sherman, took pity on the boy, and returned the necklace with thanks to the Khedive in Egypt. Upon receiving them the Khedive wrote to the General, saying that it was not his desire that the diamonds should be given to any one member of his family, and having learned that he had four daughters, it was his wish then that the diamonds should be mounted in sets, and divided equally between them. These daughters are Mrs. Fitch (nee Minnie Sherman), Ella Sherman, Lizzie Sherman, and Rachel Sherman. The necklace was then returned to the Sherman family, and mounted in four magnificent pendants, four pairs of splendid solitaire ear-rings, and eight rings. These four ladies are now the happy possessors of four complete suits of diamonds, the value of each suit being at least $75,000. This makes each of them rich in her own right, through the generosity of Egypt's former ruler.

HEIR TO A MILLION.

A Long Absent Brother and the Wealth He Left at His Death.

The Pittsburg Dispatch says: "Captain G. H. Shanafelt, who resides at No. 27 Fulton street, this city, has just received information that he has fallen heir, by the death of a brother in San Francisco, of a fortune of $1,000,000. A large portion of this consists of real estate, mostly in the suburbs of the above city; the balance is in bank stocks, United States bonds, etc.
There is a history connected with the above which is worthy of mention.
Captain Shanafelt and his brother Thomas, the latter now deceased, as above noted, were both born in this city, the former in 1811 and the latter in 1817. John Shanafelt, thirty years ago a noted painter of Pittsburg, was their father. The mother was Sarah Varner, daughter of John Varner, one of the pioneer settlers of Pittsburg. The boys, George and Thomas, while yet mere lads, were the only ones left out of a family of eight children. Having lost both parents in 1832, the youths, aged respectively 11 and 5, were adopted by John Curry, Esq., of Douglas Township, Washington county, Pennsylvania, who raised them till able to care for themselves. George, at the age of 18, came to his native city, and went to learn the trade of carpenter with Askins & Reynolds, Liberty street. Tiring of his place he hired with Mr. J. B.
Hubley, then on Fourth avenue. The war broke out, and he enlisted under R. Biddle Roberts in Company I, Twelfth Pennsylvania Volunteers, for three months.
Then in Company E, Sixty-first Regiment, under Captain Alexander Hay, O. H. Rippey, Colonel, in which command he served till the end of the war, rising from one position to another until he attained the position of Captain. It was during the service of George in the army that his brother became imbued with military spirit and went to the army, enlisting in the Eighteenth Pennsylvania Cavalry. Though young in years he made his way upward. At the end of the war he came home. Mr. Curry forgave him for running away and enlisting, as he had done, and gave him some papers to property in San Francisco, which he thought worthless. Thomas took them, and until within a day or two he had become of him. It now seems evident that Thomas must have realized handsomely, else he would not have died possessed of so much wealth. We understand that Captain Shanafelt will start in a day or two to look after his recently acquired possessions."

A gentleman living in the northern part of Indiana has been so unfortunate as to have lost five excellent wives. He lately determined to erect a tombstone at the head of each, commemorating her virtues, and has only been deterred from so doing by the expense attending the carrying out of the design. Yesterday he came to the city, a happy thought having struck him and arranged for the tombstone. The five wives were buried side by side in the same graveyard. This is the happy thought: The Christian name of each wife to be on a small stone—Emma, Jane, Mary, Margaret Elizabeth—a hand, cut on each stone pointing to a large stone in the center of the lot, and under each hand "For epitaph see large stone."—Eh.

—Dr. King arrived in the city again Saturday.

—March has blown so much about the roads, that they begin to dry up.
—Wm. Whitall has been very ill with erysipelas, but is somewhat better to-day.
—Don't fail to get Twain's last book—"A Tramp Abroad." The agent is still canvassing.

—E. C. Bailey is no better to-day, he being about as low as a man can be, and still breathe.

—A. J. Ray has rented Deacon Kelley's house and is to take possession soon, under a lease of several years.

—S. Holdredge, Esq., has gone to New York on business, and expects to return the latter part of this week.

—One hard visaged tramp, who has been there before, was this morning sentenced to thirty days in jail at hard labor.

—Hodge & Buchholz have just made a new delivery wagon for Todd's brewery. It is one of the neatest wagons yet put on wheels.

—One of Stoddard's tin peddling wagons was whirled around very lively this morning by an excited nag, but no great damage done.

—Brown, the mind-reader, was in the city to-day, and called at the Gazette office. He expects to give an entertainment in this city in the course of a few weeks.

—The ice shipments have been keeping the railroads busy night and day, but there seems to be now a letting up. It takes a big supply to keep Chicago in mint juleps during the warm weather.

—Don't fail to hear the comic opera of Dr. Alcantara, at Lappin's Music Hall, Monday and Tuesday nights. Dr. C. T. Barnes the original Carlos, E. M. Titcomb as the incomparable Pomposo. Tickets only 25 cents.

—New features, sparkling comicities and ludicrous situations by the only Patterson and Murphy combination of the Comic Opera, Dr. Alcantara, at Lappin's Music Hall, Monday and Tuesday nights. Admission, only 25 cents.

—A rare musical treat at the nominal sum of 25 cents is the comic opera of Dr. Alcantara, Chicago's and Janesville's best musical talent combined make it the event of the season. Don't fail to attend, at Lappin's Music Hall, Monday and Tuesday nights.

—Prestice & Evenson, who are always doing something to better their facilities and increase their business, have purchased a new tinture press, which is one of the latest and best arrangements for squeezing all the sap out of anything that has any sap at all. It's a squeezer, sure.

—To-night the Doctor of Alcantara is to be given in Lappin's Music Hall. The participants are Mrs. J. W. St. John, Mrs. H. A. Smith, Mrs. C. B. Conrad, Dr. C. T. Barnes, E. M. Titcomb, D. D. Bennett, C. H. Patterson, and T. H. Murphy, with Prof. C. G. Titcomb as accompanist.

—The bottom has dropped out of the case against Tim O'Rourke. It was charged that he and his son had cut holes in the ice and left them unprotected. There seemed to be no evidence against Tim, and as the boy is only eleven years of age, his age freed him from any willful violation of law.

—William Sadler has rented of Peter Myers the two stores on East Milwaukee street, one of which has been occupied by James Helms, and the other as a men's market. Mr. Sadler will occupy the first named store and the rear part of the other for his harness making and saddlery business, and Mrs. Sadler to occupy the front part of the other store for the manufacture of hair goods. The lease is for five years.

—A wanderer with a badly scarred face, and bearing other marks of very bad treatment, reached the city for a Sunday's stay. He claimed to be the man who was so severely assaulted and robbed of all his money at Beaver Dam, a short time ago. He was held there some time as a witness, and on being released struck out for Chicago, where he says he has friends. He was kept in jail over Sunday, and allowed to go his way.

—Charles Penniman, the well known cutter, who has been spending a few days exchanging hand shakes with his old friends in this city, has concluded not to return to Bloomington, where he has lately been employed, but left this afternoon for Louisville, where he is to be connected with Strauss & Son, who have an extensive clothing establishment and a large business. The position he has accepted is a responsible and lucrative one, but none of his friends doubt but that he can fill it to the complete satisfaction of his employers and their customers.

LYRICAL POETRY.

At the meeting of the Round Table Saturday evening there was a full programme and a large attendance. Prof. J. P. Haire was the leader, and opened up the subject Miss Maclean gave a sketch of Shelley and read a few extracts from Herrick, Crashaw and Carew. Miss Chittenden dwelt upon Coleridge. Rev. T. W. MacLean gave a study on sacred lyrics. Miss C. Zimlinger outlined St. Cecilia as an artist and in poetry, and Stanley B. Smith closed the evening's study by a paper on amatory lyrics.

ILLNESS OF REV. MR. CHAPPELL.

The sad news comes from the East that Rev. F. L. Chappell, pastor of the Baptist church here, is still very sick, and it is uncertain when he will be able to return home. He is suffering from a low, nervous fever, and had a narrow escape from a run of brain fever. There will be much anxiety felt among his many friends here, and they will impatiently wait for further news, and it is hoped by all that it will be better news concerning him.

It was expected that the Baptist pulpit would be supplied yesterday by Rev. Dr.

Northrop, of Chicago, but circumstances prevented that gentleman from being here. Rev. W. H. Douglass was pressed into the service, and preached at the morning service. No evening service was held.

THE BOOKS OPENED.

Yesterday Rev. John Faville, of Fox Lake, occupied the pulpit at Court street church, both morning and evening. For a week past he has been helping his brother, the pastor of the church, in special services held each evening, and has delivered some excellent discourses. In appearance the two brothers are so alike that it is difficult to tell one from the other, and it seems puzzling to a stranger sitting in the congregation to see one in the pulpit, and so striking a counterpart sitting listening to him. It seems like a man preaching to himself at the same listening to himself preach. The brothers are much alike in other than physical respects. They are earnest, honest workers, and are much esteemed by their respective congregations.

The sermon yesterday morning was on the text "And the books were opened,"—Rev. 20:12. The speaker compared life to a book, following the analogy closely, and then picked up the thought that memory was the faithful chronicler, which registered on each day's page every thought and action of the man, making a faithful record. We were not always able to recall events of the past, but they were not forgotten, as we generally say they are. It was our inability to use memory, not a neglect or weakness of memory itself. The book referred to in the text was the book of memory, and when its seals were broken, we would find that it contained a perfect record of our lives. The speaker took up the common objection to this view, that in such a case the memory would prove an avenging angel, and that the memory of the past acts of rebellion and sin would lessen or destroy the joy of heaven. Even in this life, the memory of past sins did not prevent a forgiven heart from rejoicing in God, and it would not in the other world. The pages of memory's book recording the change from a bad to a good life, the pages recording God's love to us, would be so much brighter, would be dwelt upon with so much more pleasure, as to remove the sting of remorse, and as the centuries of eternity went by, and the soul kept on its way of purity, the pages of sin and blunders would be so few in comparison, would be so cast into the shadow by the glorious memories of a different life, by the realization of God's love, that to a redeemed man there could be little of unhappiness caused thereby.

The speaker showed that on the other hand, the man who kept on sinning, filling the pages with nothing that memory could delight to dwell upon, was writing a book, the reading of which would prove more and more a torture to him as the years went by, and to such a man memory was an avenging angel.

In closing, an earnest appeal was given to each to fill with care the pages. They could be made such as we would delight to dwell upon or such as would prove ever painful. The book must be opened, and its pages must be met and read. Nothing was forgotten. Everything was recorded there, and each day a page was filled. It behooved all therefore to watch each hour, and in the very preface of the volume dedicate it to God.

ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

St. Patrick's Total Abstinence and Benevolent Society made arrangements last evening for observing St. Patrick's day—March 17—in an appropriate manner. The members of the Society are to meet at their hall at 7:30 o'clock in the morning of that day, and with St. Patrick's band will form a procession which will march to St. Patrick's church where appropriate services will be held. At the close of these services there will be a street parade, the procession moving along through the principal streets of the city, after which all will partake of a dinner furnished by the Society. After dinner the Society will proceed in a body to the depot to greet Miss Gayin, on her arrival from Chicago, and to escort her to the residence of Father Doyle, whose guest she is to be during her stay here.

In the evening Miss Gayin is to give readings at the Opera house under the auspices of the Society. She won so much praise when she appeared here before that there will be no trouble in getting together a large audience to greet her this time. She certainly is worthy of a large hearing, and will doubtless give a more pleasing entertainment even than she did at St. Patrick's church, as she will feel more free on the stage than in the altar, and the audience will not have any chill upon their enthusiasm. Mr. O. H. Fether has kindly consented to introduce Miss Gayin, and the music for the evening is to be furnished by St. Patrick's Temperance Band.

The Band will dedicate their new uniforms on that day, appearing in them for the first time in public. The Society have also purchased a new flag at a cost of about $100, and this will also be dedicated on that day, by being used for the first time. John Hogan is to be the Chief Marshal, and his assistants are to be Michael Murphy and Francis Grant. The General Committee of Arrangements consists of F. Quinn, Richard Brown, and Patrick Kelly, and under their direction there is no doubt but that the celebration will be a successful and enjoyable one.

THE SONG SERVICE.

At Cannon's hall, yesterday afternoon, there was a large gathering, called together by the song service held by the Young Men's Christian Association. All of the seats on the lower floor, and many of those in the gallery, were taken. The services were led by Mr. N. Dearborn, and were very interesting. The musical part of the service consisted of singing of familiar gospel hymns, Mr. J. E. Sargent presiding at the organ. Mr. Kent assisting with his cornet and Mr. Walter Helms joining with his clarinet. Rev. Mr. Faville, Mr. Cunningham, Mr. Achison, and others made brief remarks: There was no set programme, and no attempt at stiff formality, and all seemed to enjoy the meeting so much, that it is probable that a similar service will be held at the same place next Sunday afternoon.

Peruvian Syrup.

For nearly a quarter of a century the chemical preparation known as PERUVIAN SYRUP has been steadily growing in public favor as a means of imparting vigor to the human system by vitalizing and enriching the blood. At the present time it is one of the most popular and valuable of the established proprietary medicines in the world, and not a few of the best druggists confidently advise their families and friends to use it for the large class of complaints which it relieves. The value of iron as a medical agent has long been known to physicians, but it has never before been presented in a form so agreeable as in this preparation. This syrup prepares the system for the debilitating effects of the hot months, and has proved an antidote to many chronic maladies. Dose: 10 drops. Sold by all druggists. Sold in Janesville by Prentice & Evenson. mar3dewly
